Society at Radford

RADFORD, VA., March 30.—Charming weather and the presence in town of a number of young girls, who are at home from school for the Easter holidays, has added to the brightness of the beautiful festival. There will be special services in the churches and some social entertainments.
Among the fair visitors in town are Miss Grace Bryan, daughter of the Hon. W. J. Bryan, of Hollins Institute, and Miss Sophie Tillman, daughter of the South Carolina Senator, who is a fellow student of Miss Bryan. Miss Bryan is the guest of the Misses Tyler, at Halwick, while Miss Tyler is visiting Misses Kathleen and Lucile Cassell, at Cassellton. The latter, who are students at Virginia College, are at home for the holiday. Another guest at Cassellton is Miss Alice Preston, of Texas, a student at Virginia College.
Miss Willie Harvey, of Hollins; Miss Mary Harris, of Virginia College; Miss Agnes Mico, of Stonewall Jackson Institute, and Miss Maud Johnson, of Virginia Institute, Bristol, are also here.
A party of students from V. P. I., who have been guests at Valley View Hospital before, welcome over Saturday to spend Sunday with Dr. Fisher.
Mrs. J. Lewis Ingles entertained the Afternoon Idlers Saturday, at Ingleside, the afternoon being given over to the rehearsal of "The Goodbye Girl," the drama they expect to present at the Opera House shortly. Music and the serving of refreshments made a pleasant break in the routine of rehearsal.
Amy Caldwell will be hostess to the A. L. Club at Annheim, the home of Mrs. Elizabeth C. Adams, Monday.
Miss Evelyn Lyle gave a "stunt party" to the R. G. G. Club, Saturday, which was much enjoyed.
Cards have been sent out by Mr. and Mrs. James Whitfield Tinsley announcing the marriage of their daughter, Angela Carroll, to Mr. A. Tyree Dillard, of Lynchburg, the interesting event to take place at nine o'clock April 17, at Grace Episcopal Church.
Mrs. Lily Patton Kearnsley, who was so seriously injured Friday by being run over by a conveyance from which she was thrown, the horse taking fright at a street car, is confined to her bed, and will be a prisoner for several weeks to come. Her escape was a very narrow one, and her friends are very thankful that her life was spared. Her injuries consisted of a cut near her eye, which almost reached the temple, and a tearing away of part of the ligaments of the knee. Although confined to her bed, Mrs. Kearnsley has her young lady stenographer at work in her room, and continues to attend to business.

Miss Mary Irwin has returned to Lexington, after a visit to her brother, Rev. L. W. Irwin. While in Radford she was the recipient of considerable attention. Mrs. William Ingles entertained at dinner in her honor, the other guests being Rev. L. W. Irwin, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Walters, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Arnold, Messdames Patton and Connor. The table decorations were in green, the color scheme being also carried out in the menu, which was served in six courses, while the place cards were decorated in Irish plaids.
Dr. and Mrs. Wilson, assisted by their daughter, Miss Melita, also gave a charming supper in her honor, the other guests being Mrs. William Ingles, Miss Melita Smith, Mr. Ford Harvey, Mr. Irwin, and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold.
The friends of Miss Anne Virginia Culbertson, the popular dialect writer, are sorry to know that her health continues very poor. She has passed the winter at Laredo, Texas.
Mrs. John T. Whaling is visiting relatives in Lynchburg.
Mrs. Walter L. Caldwell, and little son Walter, of New York, left Monday for Lynchburg, after a few days visit to their aunt, Mrs. L. O. Bullard. Mrs. Caldwell, who recently lost her husband, will return to New York in April, and will probably either continue to make her home in New York or move to Richmond. Mrs. Caldwell has many friends in Virginia, who hope she will pursue the latter course.
Mrs. W. J. Barclay, who has been sick with la grippe at the home of her daughter in Bedford City, is improving.
Miss Melita Wilson returned Monday from a visit to Miss Lucy Biggs at Salem.
Mrs. William Patton is visiting relatives in town, after a visit to Mr. and Mrs. James Patton at Bluefield.
Mrs. R. R. Moore and daughter, Miss Mary, of Pulaski, and Mrs. Lacey Tines, of Tidewater, were guests of Miss Lillian Langley, this week.
Mrs. W. B. Fiqua and children visited her mother, Mrs. J. Frank Campbell, at Pulaski, the first of the week. Miss Vandall, principal of Montgomery College, will give a lecture on Jamestown, with stereopticon views, at the Radford Presbyterian Church

Monday evening for the benefit of the Ladies' Aid Society.
The friends of Mrs. Fred Painter, of Marion, have learned with much regret of the death of her husband recently. Mr. Painter was only thirty-six years old, and his death was peculiarly sad. He leaves besides his wife, who is a sister of Mrs. George W. Miles, two or three small children. Mr. Painter was a few years ago a resident of Radford, and his widow, who has for some years been in very poor health, has the hearty sympathy of a large circle of friends.
WYTHEVILLE
WYTHEVILLE, March 30.—Mr. Harris Hart, District School Inspector, visited the Schools of Wytheville Thursday.
Miss Battle Heuser left on Tuesday for a visit of several weeks to Mrs. Campbell Straus, of Matoka, W. Va.
Mr. Henry M. Smyth, the editor of the Pocahontas Headlight, was a visitor in town this week.
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lawson and Mr. Ewing Lawson, of Burks Garden, are visiting Mrs. Lena Cooper.
Mr. C. N. Okey and Mrs. Robert Williams and little daughter, Elizabeth, left on Tuesday to spend a few days in Knoxville, Tenn.
Miss Minnie Henderson, of Roanoke, arrived on Thursday, and will be the guest of Mrs. V. P. Kent.
Mrs. J. C. Thompson, of Salt Lake City, Utah, is visiting her uncle, Mr. Charles Macaulister.
Mrs. Robert Daniel and little son, of Richmond, arrived Wednesday, and will spend some time at Fourth Avenue Hotel.
Mr. and Mrs. J. R. K. Bell and little daughter, of Pulaski, were the guests of Mrs. J. A. Powell.
Mr. A. W. Pitman, of Roanoke, was a business visitor in Wytheville, this week.
The funeral of Mrs. Eugene Umberger, of Pulaski, took place Wednesday morning from St. John's Episcopal Church, and the burial was in the East End Cemetery. The services were conducted by Rev. W. H. K. Pendleton and Rev. Mr. White, of Pulaski.

Floyd Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, met with Mrs. T. H. Howard Wednesday. New members were enrolled and the general routine of business was transacted.
Miss Maggie Willis, of Willis, Va., paid a flying visit to her parents here this week.
Miss Bessie Williams, a trained nurse, who has been in Ironville for some time, is at home this week.
Mr. J. H. Honycutt and J. B. Bernard, of Roanoke; Jack Walwright and Will Pepper, of Christiansburg; W. M. Brown, of Winston-Salem, N. C.; John H. Stanley, of Martinsville; W. F. Weeks, of Radford.
GLOUCESTER.
GLOUCESTER, C. H., VA., March 30.—The Abingdon and Wara branches of the Woman's Auxiliary to the board of missions met at Gloucester Courthouse Saturday morning, on which occasion interesting papers on missions were read by Mrs. Fielding, Lewis Taylor and Miss Duval. The president, Mrs. John Tabb, gave a talk on the United Order.
The Sally Tompkins Chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy met at Gloucester Courthouse Saturday evening. The president, Mrs. P. L. Taylor, presiding, and much routine business was accomplished. Among other resolutions offered was the following, by Mrs. Richard Tallaferra:

Resolved, That the chapter will annually celebrate the birthday of their distinguished countrywoman, Captain Sally Tompkins, for whom the chapter is named, by a social gathering.
The resolution was passed with enthusiasm. The Rebecca Lloyd Tabb Chapter of the U. D. C. was asked to take part in the celebration.
Mrs. David Sanders has returned from a visit to New York.
Mr. Franklin Dabney, after spending the winter in Great Barrington, Mass., is at his home, "Berkshire," on the North River.
